书面表达

One possible version:

Dear Stanley,

Glad to receive your letter. Knowing that you are not getting on well with your parents, I want to give you some help. My suggestions are as follows.

Face-to-face communication, I think, shows the love and respect between us. Although the generation gap is wider than before, the best way to solve the problem is heart-to-heart talking. Talking face to face, we can listen to what each other thinks about the same problem directly. You can explain your thoughts in detail to your parents. However, when we face some embarrassing situations, probably WeChat or texting works better.

Finally, best wishes to you and hope you can get on well with your parents soon.

Yours,

Li hua
